True Colours CIC Virtual Tour

“I have never been in anything like True Colours before, only in a college, the video made me feel safer going in and showed me all the rooms so I could see what activities went on in the different rooms. It really helped me when I visited to see if I wanted to go there .More places should have videos it would help autistic people more not to be nervous.”

“It is my pleasure to highly recommend Access Social.

In developing an interactive tour of our Neonatal Unit, they were extremely responsive to our requirements reacting to our requests and questions professionally and quickly. They were extremely easy to work with, understanding our vision for the final product and adapting easily to the challenges of working within a busy medical environment.

Access Social provide a perfect example of how innovative organisations can successfully work with the NHS to improve patient/parent experience.”

“The tours are extremely accessible and cover all areas within the building, including the entrance. As the virtual tours are interactive it gives the individual control over what they view and where they see within the centre.

We are looking to have more virtual tours filmed at other sites including some of our outdoor facilities and the team have been supportive of this. They are willing to make changes to the footage following refurbishment at one of the centres and have been really accommodating with the needs of the service to cause as little disruption as possible whilst filming.”
